

Bochum Colloquium in Mathematics

Prof. Dr. Elisabeth Werner

Case Western Reserve University Cleveland

On the L_p Brunn
Minkowski Theory

Elisabeth Werner has studied mathematics in Tübingen and obtained her PhD at the Université Pierre et Marie Curie Paris VI. Subsequently, she became professor at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland. She works at the crossroads of convex geometry, analysis and probability theory.

When: April 17, 2024, 14:15 – 15:15

Where: Lecture Hall HIB

After the talk all participants are invited to coffee and cake!

